The Role of Faith- and Community-Based Systems in Addiction Treatment and Recovery

Available starting on Wednesday, August 4, 2004

at <http://www.recoverymonth.gov/2004/multimedia/w.aspx?ID=263>

The beneficial role that faith- and community-based organizations play in preventing and facilitating recovery from alcohol and drug use disorders has long been acknowledged.

Join host Ivette Torres, Associate Director for Consumer Affairs, Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), and a panel of experts as they explore the critical part played by faith- and community-based systems and provide useful tips on how you and your organization can get involved in this important and timely Webcast.

Panelists:

- Charles G. Curie, M.A., A.C.S.W., Administrator, SAMHSA, HHS
- Rebecca Rees Dummermuth, Associate Director, Legal Affairs, White House Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives
- Dalimarie Perez, Senior Program Manager – Latino Programs, Robert Wood Johnson Fellow, CFC – Restart Substance Abuse Services
- Melanise Frederick, Assistant Director, Crossroad Outreach Ministry

Also featuring representatives from:

- Pilgrim Rest Baptist Therapeutic Services, Inc., “The Better Way Program”—A spiritual, outpatient, abstinence drug and alcohol program, Washington, DC
- “Core Competencies for Clergy and Other Pastoral Ministers”—Training for clergy and pastoral ministers in addressing chemical addiction issues, Nationwide
- Second Genesis—Community-based drug and alcohol rehabilitation program with residential and outpatient treatment centers in Washington, DC; Maryland; and Virginia.
